HOW TO USE THIS BLUEPRINT

This PDF is the complete future-ready website plan for Sofnest as a women-care master brand. It deliberately keeps the homepage brand-led, while giving the currently available Panty Liner range enough conversion focus to sell now.

Core architecture principle

Sofnest should feel like a women-care brand that currently sells Panty Liners - not a Panty Liner brand that may add other products later.

Recommended visual system

Role	Colour	HEX
Primary / premium	Deep Navy	#12184B
Luxury accent	Champagne Gold	#D8AA55
Clean care background	Soft Mint	#EAF8F3
Feminine accent	Powder Blush	#F8E8EE
CTA / emphasis	Deep Berry	#9E2557

Website typography: Cormorant Garamond or Playfair Display for premium editorial headings; Inter for body copy, navigation, buttons and forms. Use script typography only as a tiny decorative accent, never for core UI or long text.

PDF typography: this document uses a premium serif + Inter-style sans pairing to demonstrate the intended visual contrast.

Competitor research

What to borrow from Stayfree, SOFY, Nua and Butterfly - without copying their brand identity.

Stayfree India

Best at education + authority

Strong navigation around products, period basics, puberty, first period, PMS, spotting, PCOS/PCOD and feminine-hygiene education. Its homepage combines brand belief, product ranges, featured products, educational content and FAQs.

Sofnest lesson: build a Care Guide, not just a catalogue.

SOFY India

Best at product families + technology

Clearly separates period and non-period hygiene, highlights product benefits, showcases multiple sanitary-pad and pantyliner families, and supports product discovery with period education and brand initiatives.

Sofnest lesson: make categories and use-cases very clear.

Nua

Best at modern conversion

Modern D2C presentation with strong product imagery, benefits, ratings, size/pack selection, delivery context, product story, how-to content and educational articles.

Sofnest lesson: use premium product detail pages and need-based discovery.

Butterfly MEA

Best at simple multi-category browsing

Clear collections, featured products, liner/period-pant options, articles and customer feedback. Product pages stay concise and commerce-focused.

Sofnest lesson: keep category navigation simple as the portfolio expands.

Research sources reviewed: stayfree.in, sofy.in, nuawoman.com, butterflymea.com (accessed September 2026).

Core Sofnest website strategy

The master brand must stay broader than any single product category.

MASTER-BRAND POSITIONING

A softer way to care for you.

Thoughtful women's care for everyday freshness, period days and the moments in between.

EXPLORE SOFNEST

Use "Your Everyday, Made Softer." as the Panty Liner range message, not as the only master-brand promise. This preserves your current packaging language while keeping room for Sanitary Pads, Period Panties, Disposable Panties and future women-care categories.

Brand architecture

Master Brand: Sofnest - A softer way to care for you.

Panty Liner Range: Your Everyday, Made Softer.

Brand signature: For Everyday Freshness.

The website should work as a premium brand/showcase and education platform, with marketplace conversion through Amazon, Flipkart and Meesho. Direct checkout can be added later without rebuilding the information architecture.

The Sofnest Difference

Soft at Heart

Comfort is at the centre of everything we create.

Simple by Design

Easy-to-understand essentials without unnecessary complexity.

Made for Real Life

Care designed around everyday routines and real moments.

Growing with You

From everyday freshness to period care and beyond.

Inside Sofnest Panty Liners

- Ultra Thin - comfort without bulk.
- Cottony Soft - soft against your skin.
- Breathable - fresh and comfortable feel.

- Flexible Fit - moves comfortably with you.
- Secure Adhesive - helps keep the liner in place.

These five benefit directions are already present in the supplied 155 mm product artwork. Keep them product-specific, rather than turning them into claims about every Sofnest category.

For the little moments in between

Daily Discharge

Everyday freshness when you need it.

Unexpected Spotting

Light support for unexpected little spots.

Before & After Your Period

Useful on lighter days around your cycle.

Tampon / Cup Backup

An additional layer when you want it.

Positioning note

The current pack also mentions "In Socks / for foot sweat". Do not make that a prominent homepage use-case; it can distract from Sofnest's premium women-care and intimate-care positioning.

How it fits into your day

SMALL STEPS. BIG COMFORT.

PEEL → PLACE → PRESS

Peel away the release paper from the adhesive side. Place the liner securely in the centre of your underwear. Press gently for a secure and comfortable fit. Change regularly or whenever the liner feels damp or soiled.

VIEW FULL GUIDE →

AFTER USE

WRAP → BIN → DO NOT FLUSH

Wrap the used liner securely in its wrapper or paper. Dispose of it in a waste bin. Do not flush it into the toilet.

Suggested brand-story copy:

Sofnest began with a simple belief: women's care deserves attention in the ordinary moments too. Not only on period days, but on the days between them - the busy days, the lighter days, the unexpected days and the days when a little extra comfort simply makes you feel better. That is why our journey begins with everyday panty liners - and why it will not end there. Claims to avoid until substantiated

The supplied 155 mm reference currently supports core details including Regular 155 mm, 50 Liners, Ultra Thin, Cottony Soft, Breathable, Flexible Fit, Secure Adhesive, use-case directions and the shown usage/disposal instructions.

Do not publish unsupported claims

Examples to hold back unless supported by your own testing, specification or regulatory documentation: "0% Leakage", "100% Leak Proof", "Rash Free", "Antibacterial", "Dermatologically Tested", "Toxin Free", "12-hour protection", medical/safety guarantees, or competitor-style performance claims.

Competitor product claims belong to competitor products. Use competitor sites for structure and UX inspiration, not as evidence for Sofnest performance claims.

Design direction: colours, fonts & UI

The site should feel premium, feminine, calm and modern - not overly pink, crowded or marketplace-like.

Colour palette

Typography system

Editorial / Hero Headings

Cormorant Garamond or Playfair Display

Use for H1/H2, brand statements and campaign headlines. Recommended weights: SemiBold 600 or Bold 700. Keep generous line-height and avoid all-caps for long headings.

UI / Body Copy

Inter

Use for navigation, buttons, product specs, forms, FAQ text, article body and cards. Weights: Regular 400, Medium 500, SemiBold 600.

Accent Script

Optional - very sparingly

Use only for tiny decorative phrases if you want to echo packaging. Never use script for navigation, buttons, paragraphs or important claims.

Type scale

Desktop starting point

H1 56-68 px
H2 38-46 px
H3 24-30 px
Body 16-18 px
Small labels 12-14 px
Buttons 14-16 px

Visual language

- Use fine botanical leaves, soft curves, tiny butterflies and subtle heart motifs sparingly.
- Prefer editorial women/lifestyle photography with calm compositions and natural light.
- Use clean product cutouts with soft shadows rather than catalogue-style heavy graphics.
- Keep large areas of whitespace.

- Use rounded cards subtly; avoid turning every module into a rounded box.
- Keep marketplace logos confined to “Where to Buy” and purchase areas.
- Avoid too much pink, too many butterflies, dense icon walls, discount stickers everywhere, or a different colour theme for every section.

Visual ratio

Target approximately 70% clean space, 20% product/lifestyle imagery and 10% decorative feminine elements.

Best homepage content balance

The balance that prevents Sofnest from feeling Panty Liner-only today and still keeps the current product easy to buy.
